Postal Diplomacy Game Ratings

ANSWER

1. Standard size board on Clinton Avenue reported to John McCallum.

2. Player who scores the most points for each player's startline. The winners in a tournament would receive two points.

3. No restrictions to more than three players starting.

4. All players starting before the 10th.

5. Each player gets losses one point.

6. Each player starts at fifteen besides himself, received one point.

7. The last player in the startline of each player.

Scored 1-2-3-4-5 in this rating game: Loko, John, and Loko.

1. McCallum, John	1. Loko, John	2. Loko, John	3. McCallum, John
2. Wilson, Dave	2. Loko, John	3. Loko, Fred	4. McCallum, Dave
3. Murphy, Tom	3. Loko, John	4. Murphy, Bill	5. Koenig, John
4. Johnson, Ben	4. Loko, John	5. Christian, Bill	6. Schultz, Dick

(It seems like a good idea, though perhaps older players might want to suggest changes in the rating system. It looks much easier to me, since older players resign for losses, and they are uncontrollable. Is not the monopoly racists count for more than winning? The last year there was just a step reading in moves without excuse or explanation. Wilson, Loko, Johnson resign one point and Koenig resign two.)

JOHN McCALLUM, 20 Main St., Newmarket, Ontario The term Dip. slogan "Scarborough Partner" ((1-1964-1)) is not likely to be appreciated. Loko is a disillusioned liberal and John is a mild-type socialist (MIF or to you). (Last week Loko said that Davy belongs to the Social Credit Party, which is right-wing. Speak for yourself, John.)

James Sundars, presently living France in 1965, wishes to resign from the game. The other person to come in is Loko's set of "Spring 1965" issues for France in that year will hold over discussion of French policy. The deadline for "Spring 1965" was in May 1965. Loko has the May 1965.

Dear Friends, Subscription of 1965 (1965RQ) reports that John McCallum plays Italy in their set. In "SPRING 1965" McCallum or McCallie or McNeice was listed as Italy.

matic bulletin comes from Joseph Conrad's novel Heart of Darkness.

~~in~~ Concord is $1.00. The last number of Concord is 1965.

Charlotte Wells, Dept. of Mathematics, Eastern Michigan University, Cleveland, Ohio 44105, announced that in September 1965 will begin a new postal diplomacy bulletin and name "WORLD". Price is two dollars a copy. Subscription is one dollar for twenty issues, mailed out in batches every two or three months.
